HORSES AS WELL AS TRAINERS LURED BY MILDER ATMOSPHERE.

Winter Conservatories on Metropolitan Tracks Will Soon Be Vacated—Horses, Nevertheless, Will Get Late Start in Preparation.

(By Ed Cole).

New York, March 13.—There is every belief among horsemen that this week will see the last of indoor exercise for horses in preparation for this year's campaign. Up to the present the atmospheric conditions have been decidedly against outside work, but as the old saying goes, "the backbone of the winter has been fractured."

This means that by the latter end of the present week or early next week the thoroughbreds at both Belmont Park and Gravesend will be seen cantering around and showing speed for an eighth or two. Winter quarters will be the scenes of more hustle and bustle than has taken place for the last three months. The glass enclosed conservatories used for winter quarters will practically be abandoned for the invigorating outside atmosphere. It will be welcome weather for horsemen whose charges are beginning to champ on their bits for a spin of real work in the open.

"The horses will be in about the same condition as they were at this time last year," said one of Belmont Park brigade of trainers yesterday. "We were late then and we shall be late again this year; there is no question about that, and it is doubtful in my mind if any of the local horses will be ready for any of the Maryland meetings. There may be one or two of the cheaper kind which come to hand quickly, but they will be few. Jamaica will be about the first track on which the home talent will be seen. By that time, I should imagine, all trainers will have their stock ready for the races and if I mistake not you will see the best band of horses we have ever had in this country at one time. Just look over the entries in the stakes and handicaps and recall the achievements of the score or more which head the list. They are convincing proof of what can be expected from a competitive standpoint."

Vosburgh Thinks Well of Three-Year-Olds.

Mr. Vosburgh, the official handicapper, agrees there will be a fine band of horses out this year and looks to the three-year-old division for some cracking good contests and to use his own remarks, "they may cut quite a lot of ice in the handicaps and purse races for three-year-olds and over."

Such an opinion from Mr. Vosburgh is worthy of remembrance.

When Thomas Healey, who is training the three-year-old Campfire for R. T. Wilson, says, "there is our stable," he is speaking from the heart, and proud he should be to have such a magnificent-looking colt to look after, for Campfire has developed into a youngster that reminds one comparable in conformation to James Jeffries when the latter was in his prime. He is a marked specimen of the thoroughbred world. Whether he has improved in quality as much as in quantity remains to be seen, and if he has, somebody has to introduce a three-year-old of extraordinary caliber to push him to the extreme in races. Such is the opinion of all who take a look at this good son of Olambala—Nightfall.

"I know the horse I have to beat this year in the three-year-old races," said Mr. Healey, "and he is in Hildreth's barn. It is Hourless, if he comes to the form he displayed last year before he went into winter quarters. He may improve just as much as Campfire has. Don't run away with the idea that Hourless is not a good horse. He is, and one that will make anybody's horse spread himself. He may beat Campfire, but there will be an argument.

Equine Idols Help the Turf.

"I hope we have many good horses this year and some idols in every class, for idols do much to encourage racing. Just as folks like to see champion ball players or pugilists so they like to see good horses. Look how the crowds used to come out to see Sysonby, Colin, Hermis, Domino, Imp, Beldame and other masters and mistresses of the turf. So will it be again if we can show horses as good as they were. Campfire looks like a champion and I hope he turns out as good as he looks. We'll soon know when the weather breaks and we can get to work outside. In the meantime we can only look him over every day and hope that fate has been as kind to him in speed and endurance as she has in appearance."

It must not be presumed that Campfire is the only horse in the Healey stable, for he has twenty-two others and they are in no wise a ragged band. In fact, he may have one or two youngsters that will single out from the group and perform creditably. He has a brother to Campfire, but, as Healey says, "he has not yet shown any particularly bright accomplishments excepting to eat."

TRIBUTE TO THE NELSONS, FATHER AND SON.

Late Friday afternoon the cable wires flashed the message that Major Gregory Vincent Nelson had fallen in battle—"killed in action," read the brief official announcement—in the struggle of civilization with the Hun. Major Nelson was but a boy, scarce turned his 21st birthday, and won his Majority by service on the fields of Flanders.

He was the worthy son of his father Mr. Francis Nelson, sporting editor of The Globe, at present in Hot Springs, Ark., who was at once notified by wire of the proud, sad news. No man in Canada has taken so glad a pride in the achievements of Canadian sportsmen and athletes on the field of battle for the great things of life as has "Judge" Nelson. No man has exhibited a keener patriotic spirit in doing all that lay in his power to ease the grief of those who mourned the gallant young athletic manhood who crowded Canada's honor roll. It is today his turn. He has given his son. And the messages of sympathy—and congratulation—which poured in The Globe Friday night from sporting organizations throughout Canada will be deeply appreciated by a father who understands, a father whose grief will be mitigated by pride that a boy of his blood gallantly and gloriously gave his life for the greatest and grandest of causes for which manhood ever made the supreme sacrifice.—Toronto Globe.

MACOMBER HORSES COMING TO LOUISVILLE.

Big String of Fifty-One Racers to Reach Churchill Downs Early in April.

(By Chas. A. Bergin).

Louisville, Ky., March 13.—The extensive racing establishment of A. K. Macomber, in charge of trainer Walter B. Jennings, now in training at Palmetto Park, Charleston, S. C., is due to reach Churchill Downs in the first week in April, according to advices just received at the offices of the New Louisville Jockey Club from Mr. Jennings. In his communication Mr. Jennings asks that fifty-five stalls be reserved, and he states that he will bring the entire stable in training, comprising fifty-one head. Included in the consignment will be the seven Macomber Derby eligibles, including the high-priced North Star III., for which Mr. Macomber is reported to have paid $60,000 in England last fall. Trainer Thomas Welsh is said to have offered $50,000 for the English colt, on behalf of Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia, just prior to his sale to Mr. Macomber.

Trainer Jennings says he is well pleased with the manner in which the horses, especially the Derby colts, have been training all winter, and declares that he never trained a better looking band. He is giving each of the seven aspirants for Derby honors the same preparation for the rich race, and believes they will all be able to stand up under the hard grind. He is well pleased, he states, with the appearance of North Star III., which has grown lusty and rugged since being placed in Jennings' care last fall. He says he will be glad to get back to the Downs, for which he cherishes many pleasant memories. It was at this track that Mr. Jennings trained Star Hawk for a month prior to last year's Derby.

There being at present no barns sufficiently large to accommodate a racing establishment of the size of Mr. Macomber's, it has been found necessary to erect a new structure, that, when completed, will connect two of the present barns and practically turn three buildings into one, thus placing all of the horses under one roof, and making the work of training them so much easier.

Numerically Greatest Stable.

As at present constituted the Macomber stable is undoubtedly the largest and one of the most costly in training. Its arrival at Churchill Downs will place it at the forefront in numerical strength on the local track, that position at present being occupied by the Wickliffe stable, numbering forty-six head, with the establishment of J. E. Madden second with thirty-six head.

Local turfmen are awaiting the arrival of the Macomber stable with unusual interest, the reason therefor being their desire to get a glimpse of North Star III., and the other Derby eligibles in the stable and compare them with those already here. But little is known here concerning the son of Sunstar, the only line obtainable being his races in England last year. The fact that he was considered one of the best two-year-olds in England last year and that his present owner thought fit to give such a large price for him, impresses local turf men with the idea that North Star III. must, indeed, be a great colt and the most likely one of the imported eligibles to triumph over the American breds.

The close by coming of the Macomber stable has aroused renewed discussion regarding the merits of the most talked-about aspirants for the Derby, and those of the stable in the care of trainer Jennings in particular. Regarding the chances of Mr. Macomber, the opinion is generally expressed that if he is to win this year's Derby, one of his importations of last fall must do the trick. These are North Star III., War Star, Walnut Hall and Le Chevesne, with the first-named standing out most prominently. The two-year-olds shown by Mr. Macomber in this country last year, including such ones as Star Gazer, Star Master and Hollister, are splendid-looking animals and on occasions they showed speed, but they were lacking when arrayed against horses of the best class.

Chicago Man's Horses in Training.

T. L. Pierce has in training for F. J. Kelley of Chicago a stable of seven horses at the Downs, including Peter Jay, a Derby eligible. Four of the others are two-year-olds, the only other member of the establishment being Stephen R., a four-year-old winner of several races last year.

Peter Jay is training soundly and, if nothing goes amiss, will carry the Chicago owner's colors in the Derby on the afternoon of May 12. Peter Jay is a chestnut gelding by Toddington—Attelle. He won one race as a two-year-old and is considered a colt of fair quality. The two-year-olds in the stable are:

Best Beau, ch. c, by Bourbon Beau—Francisca.
Ichi Ban, br. f, by Trap Rock—Linda Stone.
Eza Nameny, ch. f, by Trap Rock—Fizgig.
Irish Beau, ch. c, by Bourbon Beau—Lauretta Stolworthy.

Mr. Pierce also has a chestnut filly by Transvaal—Mary Day, which is a sister to Blackie Daw. This is the most highly regarded of the band. It was announced that Mr. Kelley had retired from the breeding business. Attelle, his chief mare, has been sold to John Carr.

SEVERE LOSS TO CAPTAIN E. B. CASSATT.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13.—A fire of apparently incendiary origin, destroyed four broodmares belonging to Captain E. B. Cassatt at the latter's Chesterbrook Farm, near Berwyn, Pa., Sunday night. They were Miss Perigord, Sententious, Litigant and Laconic, and all were expected to produce foals within the next few days. Miss Perigord is the dam of Cuddle Up. Trainer Simon Healy said that the fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, a similar blaze having taken place in one of the other barns the night before. At that time all the thoroughbreds were driven away. On Sunday night sixteen horses were rescued. Neither trainer Healy nor manager R. A. Colgan of the Cassatt estate, can account for the motive of the incendiary. Captain Cassatt is visiting R. T. Wilson at the latter's South Carolina estate.

STRONG SUPPORT FOR TENNESSEE BILL.

Nashville, Tenn., March 13.—The horse racing bill introduced in the Tennessee legislature by Memphis solons will get strong support from Nashville. The bill calls for a state racing commission and pari-mutuel betting. Local turf followers are enthusiastic over prospects.

RACING GOSSIP FROM THE EAST.

Good Reasons Advanced for Not Starting Eastern Season at Belmont Park Instead of Jamaica.

New York, March 13.—Ambassador Gerard is credited with having complimented H. D. Brown on the character of the racing that has been provided in the season drawing to a close at Oriental Park. It is probable that there was more than the mere courtesies of a club house guest in the kind things the ambassador had to say to the track manager, for Mr. Gerard is one of the influential Americans who have had the advantage of seeing what racing means to the powerful and intelligent foreign nations, and doubtless appreciates the handicaps under which the sport has labored in his native country.

There are probably good reasons for delaying the opening of Belmont Park, says the New York Times, and it is certain that better weather is more likely the longer the delay. It is also likely that the important Kentucky meeting from May 12 to 25, during which the Kentucky Derby is to be run, had its influence on the stewards. The class of horses booked to run in Kentucky are the kind that will be required to make the stakes at Belmont Park successful, and these will have a chance to return east by May 29, when the gates at Belmont Park will be thrown open. It would also be almost impossible to hold a meeting at Belmont Park on May 19, with the meeting of the United Hunts going on just across the way at Belmont Park Terminal. All of these things may have been taken into consideration and, moreover, it is probable that the success gained last year when the same schedule was in use was sufficient to satisfy the rulers of the turf.

There is considerable anxiety among the trainers who have wintered their horses at the metropolitan tracks over the prospect of getting their charges ready for the opening of the campaign at Bowie on April 2. The recent storm destroyed all chance of giving work-outs to the horses, and all that can be done at present is to give walking exercise. Scarcely any of the horses which were wintered here will be ready for the bugle call at Bowie, and it is expected that it will be well along in the Maryland season before the metropolitan trainers have their horses in any condition to meet those which have been racing on the winter tracks.

Last year the McLean string was composed of jumpers, and in the string were Lough Foyle, Exton, Bonny Laddie, Faker and some others. Not so much attention was paid to the flat racing, but for this year the stable is a much more pretentious one, and Mr. McLean bought the entire crop of the Rancocas Stud yearlings last year. He also bought some foreign-breds and one, Rubber II., a son of Yankee—Caoutchoue, has been named in both the Juvenile and the Keene Memorial, to be run at Belmont Park. The McLean Stud is at Leesburg, Va., and there are a number of brood mares there, already, while others are being added from time to time, while it is probable that a first-class stallion will be added to the stock.

CHARGED WITH VIOLATING LOCKE LAW.

New Orleans, La., March 13.—Dr. George A. MacDarimid, I. B. Rennyson, Philip Foto, Victor Lebau, Archibald Marx, Anturo Dell 'Orto and John Dillon, officers and directors of the Business Men's Racing Association, were arraigned before Judge O'Donnell in the Second City Criminal Court yesterday on the charge of violating the Locke law, filed against them last week by William M. Railey, president of the Citizens' League of Louisiana. They pleaded not guilty and were released on bonds.

John P. Sullivan, attorney for the racing association, represented the defendants. Other directors of the association and layers of bets in the Fair Grounds Palm Garden, against whom Mr. Railey filed affidavits, did not appear for arraignment. They were said to be out of the city.

PARLIAMENT WILL NOT INTERFERE.

Ottawa, Ont., March 13.—It was understood here today that the government will not interfere this session of parliament with racing on Canadian tracks. It also was stated on good authority that the restrictive Willcox bill will be dropped.

TIJUANA EXTENSION SURE

PRESIDENT COFFROTH EXPECTED TO ANNOUNCE SEVERAL MORE WEEKS RACING.

Yesterday's Sport of Sensational Order—Finishes Close and Exciting—Miss Fannie Displays Speed to Win Lankersheim Handicap.

Tijuana, Mex., March 13.—Miss Fannie won her first race of the meeting today when she came from far back to win the Lankersheim Handicap. She only got up in the closing strides to defeat Diadi after a furious drive down the stretch. Blue Cap was third. Silvermoon set the pace, but tired badly when challenged in the stretch.

The opening dash resulted in a spectacular finish, in which the three-year-old Ethelbert colt, Luck, quoted at 25 to 1 in the betting, got up in the last stride to beat Precision, which had set the pace from the start. Old Fort Johnson bled and was pulled up in this race.

Positano won the second race. Ethel Welles set a fast early pace, but quit when entering the home-stretch and Positano, which was never far away, forged to the front and drew out into a long lead at the end. Auntie Curl was favorite in this race, but had nothing to do with the running of it, being outpaced all the way.

The third race produced another sensational finish. Choctaw got away badly and was outrun to the stretch, where he came wide, but when straightened out, finished with a terrific burst of speed and wore the leaders down, drawing clear at the end. Bully might have won but for being in close quarters to the stretch. Zenotek quit after setting the pace to the last eighth.

Waremore led all the way in the fifth, but tired in the stretch and just lasted long enough to win.

Although President Coffroth has not made known his intentions regarding an extension, it is thought he will do so in favor of several more weeks, within a few days.

SHOWERY WEATHER AT HOT SPRINGS.

Has Little Effect on Attendance at Oaklawn—Jockeys McCabe and Troise Punished.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 13.—Brisk showers developed in these parts this afternoon and some of the racing was done while the rain fell. The attendance, however, was of former good proportions and, as the track remained firm, the sport was interesting.

The card on the whole was devoid of any feature. the claiming handicap, in which the starters were entered for $1,200, being regarded as the principal offering. It furnished a rattling finish, Buzz Around triumphing over the old stager Brian Boru, by a scant neck after a spirited stretch drive, Jack Reeves, the odds-on favorite, landing third. The latter would have been a more serious factor but for being a sufferer by the interfering tactics of Gourley, astride Thanksgiving, who bumped his mount repeatedly against Jack Reeves, causing him to lose his stride.

Thirty-two layers were again in line and they were kept active during the day quoting prices and accepting wagers. The talent were fairly successful during the day and landed on most of the winners.

The success of Dr. Prather in the opener gave the layers a stiff set back and they did not benefit much by the victory of Benjamin in the second. Handfull was a confidently-backed favorite and Buzz Around was likewise given sesious attention, though Jack Reeves absorbed the big backing.

Apprenticeship of Jockey Lykes Expires.

Jockey Lykes, who rode his first winner last year on King Radford, had his apprenticeship expire this afternoon.

The new arrivals today included Otto Stifel of St. Louis, William A. Pinkerton, head of the well-known detective bureau, and Chief of Police James Reynolds of New Orleans.

Jockey Cooper has accepted an engagement to ride for Barry Littlejohn in Canada this season.

Trainer John Powers sent Leochares five-eighths this morning, in 1:01 easily. There is an effort on to bring him and Old Rosebud together, but this seems rather a remote possibility.

Encouraging advices regards the possibility of a racing law being enacted during this session of the legislature of Missouri continues. It is said that the measure might come up in the next day or two for final decision.

Jockey Troise was suspended for three days by the judges for rough riding in the closing race. Jockey J. McCabe was suspended for four days by the starter for disobedience at the post.

MOST SENSATIONAL FINISH SEEN AT HAVANA.

M. J. Daly's 30 to 1 Shot Divan Runs a Remarkable Race at Oriental Park.

Havana, Cuba, March 13.—The third race was a five-eighths dash for three-year-olds and over and the longest priced horse in the race was M. J. Daly's four-year-old filly Divan, ridden by the apprentice Wakoff. Opening at 30 to 1 she received little support and remained at that figure until the race was on. In the first half of the race Divan was absolutely last of the field of eight, and turned into the final drive through the stretch the trailer of the entire bunch. However, she was next to the rail and Wakoff was fortunate enough to find an opening. Down toward the line the daughter of Solitaire II. dashed, like a stake horse among selling platers and one by one she passed every one of her company, nailing the last one, Bunice, in almost the last stride, to win by a head. It was the most sensational finish seen here this year.

All of the six winners today were under hard drives to score. Madtour, at 15 to 1, won the opening race. The second went to Felina, while Elizabeth Lee gamely held the lead all the way to win the fourth.

Sureget won his sixth victory of the meeting when he came home winner in the fifth.

Jockeys Mink and Watson each rode two winners during the afternoon.

J. B. Goodman left for Kentucky yesterday with his stable.

AN EQUINE MARVEL OF RECENT TIMES.

Some Particulars of the Feats of Prince Palatine in English Racing.

When T. Pilkington in 1909 purchased privately a yearling colt by Persimmon—Lady Lightfoot from Colonel Hall Walker, the purchaser had by no means the worst of the bargain. Commencing modestly, the colt, which was none other than Prince Palatine, developed into one of the greatest horses of the past decade. In the course of his racing career Prince Palatine won stakes worth a sum approaching $200,000, while later J. B. Joel gave the amount named to obtain possession of the son of King Edward's first Derby winner.

It was in one of the Biennials at Ascot, that Prince Palatine first became acquainted with a race-course. Ridden by Herbert Jones, he ran third to the favorite St. Nat and the Lady Frivoles filly. His next outing was in the National Breeders' Produce Stakes at Sandown Park, but in this he was unplaced to Cellini. His third essay was less severe, and he easily won a minor event at Kempton Park in August, while he likewise accounted for a moderate band in a maiden plate at Newbury in the autumn. Returning to the higher class, he beat Braxted by a neck for the Imperial Produce Plate at the October meeting at Kempton Park, and wound up the season with a poor display in the Dewhurst Plate, in which Phryxus and King William ran a dead-heat.

His first appearance as a three-year-old was also in an Ascot Biennial, and it seems strange, in these times, to realize that Bannockburn, in receipt of twelve pounds, was favorite, while Prince Palatine was a 10 to 1 chance. Moreover, Bannockburn defeated the latter by a head. Prince Palatine was again second in the Midsummer Stakes, in Second July Week, to Mushroom, the "city" winner, conceding ten pounds. Mr. Pilkington's colt found his way first past the post at Goodwood, where he won the Gordon Stakes by three lengths from Phryxus. The "Prince" was coming on apace now, and by Doncaster he was at top notch.

His St. Leger Victory.

He was one of the eight starters for the St. Leger. The Derby winner Sunstar was a notable absentee, but J. B. Joel was represented by a fancied horse in Lycaon, which had won a race at Goodwood. The chief fancy, however, was the disappointing King William—owned by Lord Derby and ridden by Frank Wootton—which started at 6 to 4 against, Mr. Joel's colt and Prince Palatine being joint second favorites at 100 to 30 against. The trio which headed the quotations also filled the leading places in the race; but not in the order expected. As a matter of fact, Prince Palatine simply ran away from his rivals, finishing a half dozen lengths in front of Lycaon, with King William three lengths further away. Frank O'Neill, who rode the winner, could rarely have had a more comfortable ride.

The "Prince's" only other essay that year was in the Kingsclere Stakes at Newbury, in October. In this he was opposed only by Stedfast, a stable companion of King William, and Narenta, belonging to the Duke of Portland. There was some close wagering between Stedfast, which had run second to Sunstar in both the Two Thousand and Derby, and Prince Palatine, Stedfast being finally quoted at 6 to 5 on, with the other at like odds against, and Lord Derby's representative, in receipt of seven pounds, pulled through by a half length.

Stedfast for the second time gained the verdict when the pair again met, in the Coronation Cup, at Epsom, the following June, winning by three parts of a length from the St. Leger victor. The latter, however, may hardly have been beaten on his merits, inasmuch as he dwelt at the start and thereby lost a deal of ground. Then came the Gold Cup, in which he was opposed by Charles O'Malley, Basse Pointe and four others. The "Prince" was favorite at 2 to 1 against, but the French folk were hopeful that the trophy would be taken across the channel, through the agency of Basse Pointe, and M. de St. Alary's mare was well supported at odds down to 3 to 1 against. The result proved our Gallic friends to have been sadly out in their reckoning, Prince Palatine—which seemed to have a penchant for spreadeagling his foes when he did win—finishing five lengths ahead of the French mare, third place going to Bill and Coo.

A Rare Surprise.

Disaster attended the next effort of Prince Palatine. Having regard to the ease with which he won the Gold Cup, it was reasonable to assume that he could dispose of the somewhat ordinary band that opposed him in the Princess of Wales' Stakes, and odds of 5 to 2 were asked by the layers. Balblair, Fantasio and Lorenzo were the only others supposed to hold a sort of chance; but all calculations were upset by Lance Chest, which, in the hands of Walter Griggs, won comfortably by a length and a half, Prince Palatine beating Fantasio for second place with three lengths to spare. In the corresponding race a year later Lance Chest created another surprise by beating Catmint and others.

Prince Palatine made amends in the Eclipse Stakes, in which he defeated his old opponent Stedfast, on which odds were laid, by a short head. The Doncaster Cup he won by ten lengths from Adalis, the only other contestant, while he again defeated Steadfast—who was again an odds-on favorite—in the Jockey Club Stakes. His final appearance for the year had a sensational ending. He was opposed by Aleppo in the Jockey Club Cup, and odds of 20 to 1 were demanded about the son of Persimmon, the outsider winning easily by six lengths.

Another trophy was lifted by Prince Palatine at Epsom the day after that on which Aboyeur's historic Derby was decided. This was the Coronation Cup, which Mr. Pilkington's horse won by three lengths from Long Set, with Cigar third. The same month he won his second Gold Cup at Ascot, though in this instance he was distinctly favored by fortune. Tracery was leading and going well when a spectator with a "bee in his bonnet" ran on to the course. Tracery collided with the man and fell. In the end Prince Palatine landed the odds laid on him by a length and a half, Stedfast being second and Aleppo third. The "Prince's" final race was at Goodwood, where odds were laid on him for the Cup. Something went wrong with him in the course of the race, however, and he was unplaced, L. Brassey winning the prize with Catmint, which beat Aleppo by a neck, with Lance Chest three lengths behind the second.—"J. F. P." in London Sporting Life.

GENERAL JACKSON AND THE NEGRO JOCKEY.

General Andrew Jackson has often been described as a man of three great passions: First, his passion for his country; second, his passion for a race horse; third, his passion for a horse race. Many are the stories told about this famous American and his famous horses. Here is one:

General Andrew Jackson, the hero of New Orleans, stepped into the paddock at the famous Clover Bottom course near Nashville. He addressed Monkey Simon, the dimunitive negro jockey, a veritable wizard of the saddle, who, it later developed, would "hoodoo" opposing jockeys by his alleged powers of conjuring, who had the mount on a horse entered against the Jackson stable.

"Don't you squirt tobacco juice in my horse's eyes," commanded General Jackson.

"Hell, Gineral, I've rid against yo' horses lots of time, an' none of 'em ever got close 'nough to me to squirt terbaker in their eyes," replied Monkey.

General Jackson took the thrust of the little negro good-naturedly.

SEVERAL FOXY OLD-TIME JOCKEYS.

Englishmen Consider Fordham, Archer and Tod Sloan Best Riders Ever Seen in the Saddle

English critics of race riding who think that George Fordham had no equal are of the opinion that the three best riders were Fordham, Fred Archer and Tod Sloan. This is a big tribute to Sloan coming from the connoisseurs on the other side of the water. Such a skilful trainer as John Porter held this view and the latest to agree with him was Sydenham Dixon, who wrote the following article on the trio:

"Taking up an old calendar almost at random—it happened to be that of 1868—it was interesting to glance through the return of the Cambridgeshire and note the jockeys who rode in it. George Fordham was on See Saw, which won, the colt having then passed from the possession of the ill-fated Marquis of Hastings and carrying the colors of Lord Wilton. Then Wells was on Blue Gown, who accomplished about the best performance of his career by running second under 126 pounds; T. French rode Taraban in the somber livery of Mr. Bowes; T. Chaloner, father of George and Phillip of that ilk, had to put up a pound overweight to ride at 108 pounds on Lady Coventry, which was nominated by Mat Dawson; T. Kenyon steered Kidderminster, and Fred Webb was able to go to scale at 86 pounds on Porter's Knot, a feat which will seem almost incredible to those who only knew him of later years when he had the greatest difficulty in keeping down to 126 pounds.

"There were only twenty-four runners in that particular Cambridgeshire, a small field for that race in those days, indeed Adonis had no fewer than forty-one behind him when he won it in 1870, and Peut Etre beat the same number in 1874. Looking through other races at that particular Houghton meeting, at which it is safe to presume that all the best jockeys of the day would be riding, I find the names of H. Custance, D. Butler, J. Osbourne, Cameron and T. Cannon. In those days the Houghton meeting extended over six days and there were nine races on the Saturday and would have been ten had not one of the matches fallen through. I might easily have extended my list of eleven jockeys, but I would not include a single one whose claims to be considered absolutely in the first rank could possibly be disputed. I have not, for example, mentioned the name of H. Maidment. He had a run of marvelous luck, getting some wonderful mounts in the colors of Baron Rothschild and Henry Savile, and in all rode six classic winners, but could never be truthfully said to be a great jockey.

Believed George Fordham Greatest Jockey of All.

"I fully agree with Mrs. Malaprop that comparisons are odorous and shall certainly not make any individually; but I think all regular race-goers who are well on the wrong side of fifty will agree with me that it would be wholly hopeless to attempt to match the eleven jockeys I have mentioned from among those riding today. What an eleven mine is! Captain of them is the inimitable George Fordham, whom I shall always believe to have been the greatest jockey that ever lived. Nor am I at all alone in this opinion, which I fancy is shared by nine-tenths of my contemporaries. Only a few weeks ago Hotspur quoted a letter from John Porter in the columns of the Daily Telegraph, in which the following passage occurred: 'I think Fordham, Archer and Sloan were all geniuses in their profession, and of the three I preferred the first named infinitely the best.' Here is an expert opinion which fully bears out my own view that Fordham stood out by himself in his own day and has never had an equal since.

"Though he was one of the most amiable and good-natured of men, I don't think Fordham ever regarded Archer with much friendly feeling. At any rate, I know that he was always desperately keen about beating him himself, and when he had retired from active service was always anxious to see Tom Cannon get the better of the Tinman. Like every other great man, Fordham was not immune from making mistakes, perhaps his worst one being when he rode Lord Cliften's head off in the Derby of 1863. This undoubtedly arose from unbounded confidence in his mount, and he said just after being lifted into the saddle in the Epsom paddock: 'No one but me knows how good this horse is.' The delay of about three-quarters of an hour at the post cannot have done Lord St. Vincent's colt any good, but no one expected to see a favorite for the Derby make every yard of the running, and Chaloner snatched a head verdict on Macaroni, though both he and Fordham, as well as the great majority of the spectators, thought that the second had just pulled through.

Many Brilliant Feats of Horsemanship.

"I saw Fordham accomplish so many brilliant feats of horsemanship that it is difficult to say which was the best of them all. Probably, however, he never excelled his riding of Lecturer in the Ascot Cup of 1868. There was a wonderful field for that race, including three Oaks winners in Regalia, Tormentor and Hippia, that fine stayer Rama, which had distinguished himself by an eight lengths victory over Lord Lyon in the Doncaster Cup of the preceding year, and Julius, which was shortly afterward destined to win the Cesarewitch with 112 pounds on his three-year-old back, and thus created a record which stood until it was handsomely wiped out by Robert the Devil thirteen years later.

"Thanks to Tom Cannon on John Davis, which was pacemaker for Fordham on Lecturer, the race was run from end to end, and so good was the pioneer—he won half a dozen races on his own account that season, and had been handicapped to concede a couple of pounds to Lecturer in the Northamptonshire Stakes of that year—that they were well into the straight before he was done with. Then Heartfield, who was on Regalia, saw Cannon looking round for Fordham, and, knowing what this meant, he watched his opportunity, and when John Davis was pulled ou to let up his stable companion on the inside, Regalia, and not Lecturer, was the one that promptly took advantage of the opening.

"A less consummate artist than Fordham might easily have got into hopeless trouble at this point, for they were only just below the distance; but the great jockey grasped the situation in an instant and, instead of running the risk of being bumped and bored or getting boxed in on the rails, he pulled Lecturer right back and came up on the outside. Of course he lost some ground by this move, but the little colt, which was a shade under fifteen hands, was too good to be denied, and won easily by a length and a half. Though Heartfield and Fordham were always on the best of terms and it took a great deal to upset the latter's equanimity, he did not at all like being bested in this fashion, and as they returned to weigh in said seriously: 'Tom, if you'd beat me I should have objected to you.' Every incident of this race of forty-one years ago is clear in my mind, and I always thought it was a daring thing on Fordham's part to pull Lecturer back when so near home. Some time ago, however, Heartfield gave me the real explanation of it."

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

Prince Eugene, for which J. Livingston paid a big price several years ago, was sold for $85 to Ed Dealy at Tijuana last Saturday.

Army officers realize that the horse is still a factor in war. "The breeding of horses has been seriously neglected and it should be given serious attention," states Major General Wood. With the 5,000 air scouts which the Aero Club would provide for national defense, preparedness also requires abundant horses for all branches of the service.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

The Telegraaf of Amsterdam publishes an account of further food riots in Barmen in which the chief of police was seriously wounded by the stones of the women rioters. The account says that the police were helpless and that even the troops failed to disperse the rioters, who were finally gotten in hand by firemen turning their fire hose on them. A rioter who cut a hose with a knife was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. Serious disturbances among the German troops in the vicinity of Namur and Huy are reported also. The paper says that only fragmentary reports of the trouble have reached Holland, but that it is known that such large numbers of soldiers have been imprisoned at Namur and Huy on charges of insubordination in connection with the outbreak that the prisons in the two towns are crowded to four and five times their normal capacity.

A London dispatch from Vevey says Ritaat Pasha, formerly Turkish minister to France, has left Geneva hurriedly for Turkey. It is understood he is charged with a mission in connection with the differences which have arisen between Constantinople and Berlin on account of the reverses in Mesopotamia, which are attributed by the Turks to Germany's action in forcing her to send her best troops to help the Austro-Germans. It also is reported that Bedry Bey, governor of Constantinople, has arrived at Berlin on a similar mission.

A war council of the British Empire, at which will sit all the prominent heads of different departments in Great Britain, will meet at London within a few days to deliberate at length upon the conditions underlying further employment of England and her allies during the war. England, so it is said, is to become the sole prosecutor of the struggle, as Russia and France are at the end of their resources, and the burden must be carried by Great Britain alone. The war council will be in session until in April.

England maintains permanent shipping quarters at Newport News, Va., where upwards of 8,000 horses are quartered at all times and 15,000 head can be accommodated. The yards cover 200 acres. The method of care is decidedly American and thoroughly systematic. Over 300,000 horses and mules have passed out to sea, designating Newport News as the principal shipping point. On an average of 750 to 800 animals are carried on a vessel, the cargoes ranging from 300 to 1,800 head.

A general strike on the railroads of the United States, threatening to tie up everything in the way of traffic and so far reaching as to imperil the interests of the country, is threatened by the brotherhoods, unless the eight hour concessions are immediately granted to the employes of the roads throughout the country. The ruling, as said to exist in brotherhood circles, will affect 3,000,000 employes. Labor has pledged loyalty and support of the government in case of war.

Mail carried on an American ship, the Standard Oil tanker John D. Archbold, was removed by the British authorities at Halifax, according to the officers of the vessel, which arrived at New York from Bergen, Norway. This is said to be the first time that the right of transporting mail from a foreign country has been denied to a ship flying the American flag on the Atlantic.

That Germany is preparing for a gigantic offensive along the western front, probably a blow at Calais through the Yser canal, is the concensus of military opinion in European capitols. Field Marshal von Falkenhayn has passed through cities back of the western front on his way to the headquarters of the general staff and it is believed this signifies an offensive of some sort.

Preliminary steps were taken by the navy department Tuesday toward contracting for the quick construction of 100 or more high speed coast patrol boats of a new type for scouting against submarines. At a conference in which a score of builders were represented, assurances were given that deliveries could be begun within four months.

Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, stated in the house of commons Tuesday that a supplementary vote of credit to meet increased unforeseen expenditure will be moved Thursday. When the latest vote of credit was passed it was expected that it would carry over the present financial year.

Prisoners on the Yarrowdale-German adventure have arrived in Switzerland. They claim mistreatment in the German prison camps, alleging the Americans were singled out from among all the others, to become the center of acts out of keeping with the treatment accorded other prisoners.

France has just placed an order with the British-American Tobacco Company of Durham, N. C., for 7,000,000,000 cigarettes, to be supplied to soldiers of the republic fighting along the front in France. If the cigarettes were coupled together they would embrace a line 210,297 miles in length.

The third Canadian domestic war loan of $150,000,000 was placed on the market Monday. It is an issue of five per cent twenty year bonds, and the issue price is ninety-six. The loan is open for purchase in the United States, as it is made payable in New York.

Scores of German reservists have crossed into the Mexican state of Sonora from points in Arizona within the last week, an agent of the department of justice announced Monday night. The agent said they appeared to be scattering to all parts of Mexico.

The senate foreign relations committee approved in modified form, Tuesday, the treaty with Colombia by which the United States will pay that republic $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama. It will be pressed to a vote in the special session of the senate.

Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and who was a prisoner in a sanitarium after being adjudged insane, will be returned on a lunacy charge. Thaw was to be tried on charges of assaulting a schoolboy in Kansas City, Mo.

Notice to the world that American ships shall henceforth be armed, has been served by President Wilson and arms are now being placed on the merchant ships awaiting available mounted guns in American ports.

Instructions to gun crews on ships which are to bear guns and gunners of American origin, have been given. They are to embrace an order ordering crews "to fire on submarines upon sight."

Twenty-four men were entombed in an explosion in the Henderson Coal Company mines near Cononsburg, Pennsylvania, Tuesday.
